

Welcome

CIOSTA, CIGR, EurAgEng, VDI, ÖKL, BLT Wieselburg and the University of Natural Resources and Applied Life Sciences would like to invite you to the XXXIV CIOSTA & CIGR Section V Conference in Vienna, Austria.

The conference provides a forum to present and exchange ideas and to promote research, development and application of efficient and safe technology and management in production processes of agriculture and forestry.

CIOSTA emphasises a holistic and sustainable approach to designing and improving systems and fosters cooperation among scientists, technicians, advisers and producers throughout the world.

The University of Natural Resources and Applied Life Sciences, the host of the conference, was founded in 1872. It feels responsible for teaching and research that focus on renewable resources, which are a requisite for human existence. The university offers 9 Bachelor's and 19 Master's programmes, including four international Master's programmes conducted in English.

The goal of the Department of Sustainable Agricultural Systems is to contribute to the development of a network of sustainable and ecological agricultural systems which provide food, renewable resources and energy. With its research activities and courses in engineering, the Division of Agricultural Engineering promotes the development of sustainable technologies and constructions, renewable energy resources, work sciences and safety.
